The dining table varia duo turns into a worktable in no time. As soon as you pull on the tabletop, its surface widens and a spacious storage area evolves. It offers enough room for working utensils, games or your tableware. On demand, the storage area will be equipped with electricity. With insert panels, the tabletop can be broadened 30 cm. Thus you have more room available for a cozy raclette or fondue and up to ten people around the table. During office work, the enlargement offers room for a comfortable working up to six people. Additional modules divide the storage room. They can also be equipped with a socket strip.

Thanks for a novel assembly system varia duo can be taken apart into single components and therefore be well transported during a move. The heaviest component weighs about 15 kg.

Varia consists of natural solid wood and ply wood and is available in different wood types and dimensions. The interaction of form, material and colour adds lightness, naturalness and freshness.
